@ UniTea

A MONTHLY MEETUP FOR LOCAL BUSINESS OWNERS.

July's Topic: Overcoming the Fear of Success

GUIDELINES

Keep it supportive

Everyone's business journey is different.

Share, don't sell

This isn't a sales event or a pitch meeting.

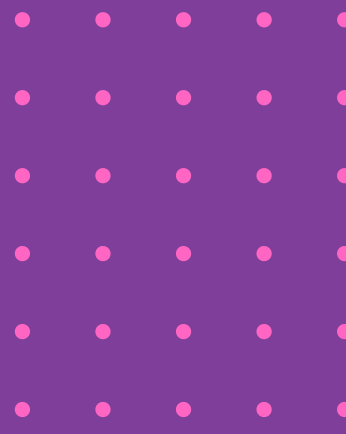

Listen as much as you talk

The best conversations happen when everyone has space to contribute.

Come curious

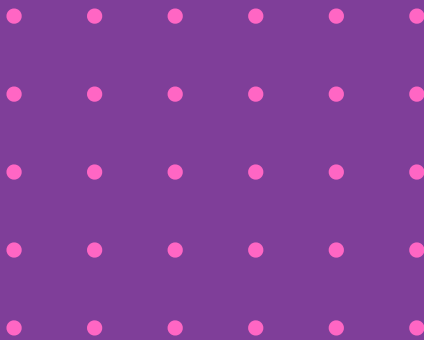

Ask questions. Offer ideas. Learn something new.

Grab a tea, be kind, and help someone leave a little better than they arrived.

FEAR OF SUCCESS?

It sounds strange, but it's real.

Sometimes we avoid opportunities because success might mean:

- More responsibility
 - Higher expectations
 - More visibility
 - Bigger risks
 - Change

WHAT DOES IT LOOK LIKE?

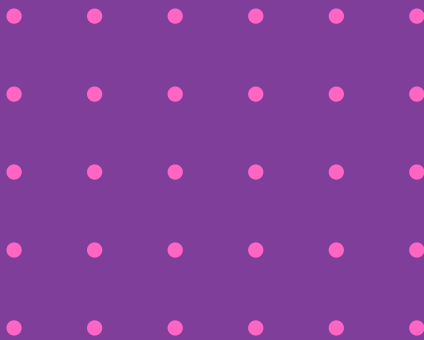

You might...

- Put off launching something.
- Keep tweaking instead of publishing.
- Turn down opportunities.
- Underprice your work.
- Stay "busy" instead of making progress.

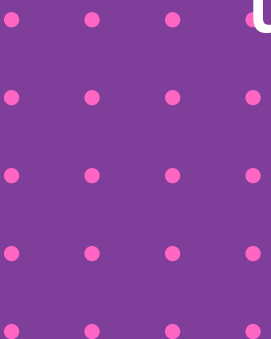

YOU'RE NOT ALONE

Owning a business can feel pretty lonely sometimes.

Everyone here has hit roadblocks, second-guessed themselves, or wondered if they're making the right move. None of us totally have all our shit together.

That's why we're here. To share what's worked, be honest about what hasn't, ask questions without feeling judged, and remind each other that we're all figuring it out as we go.

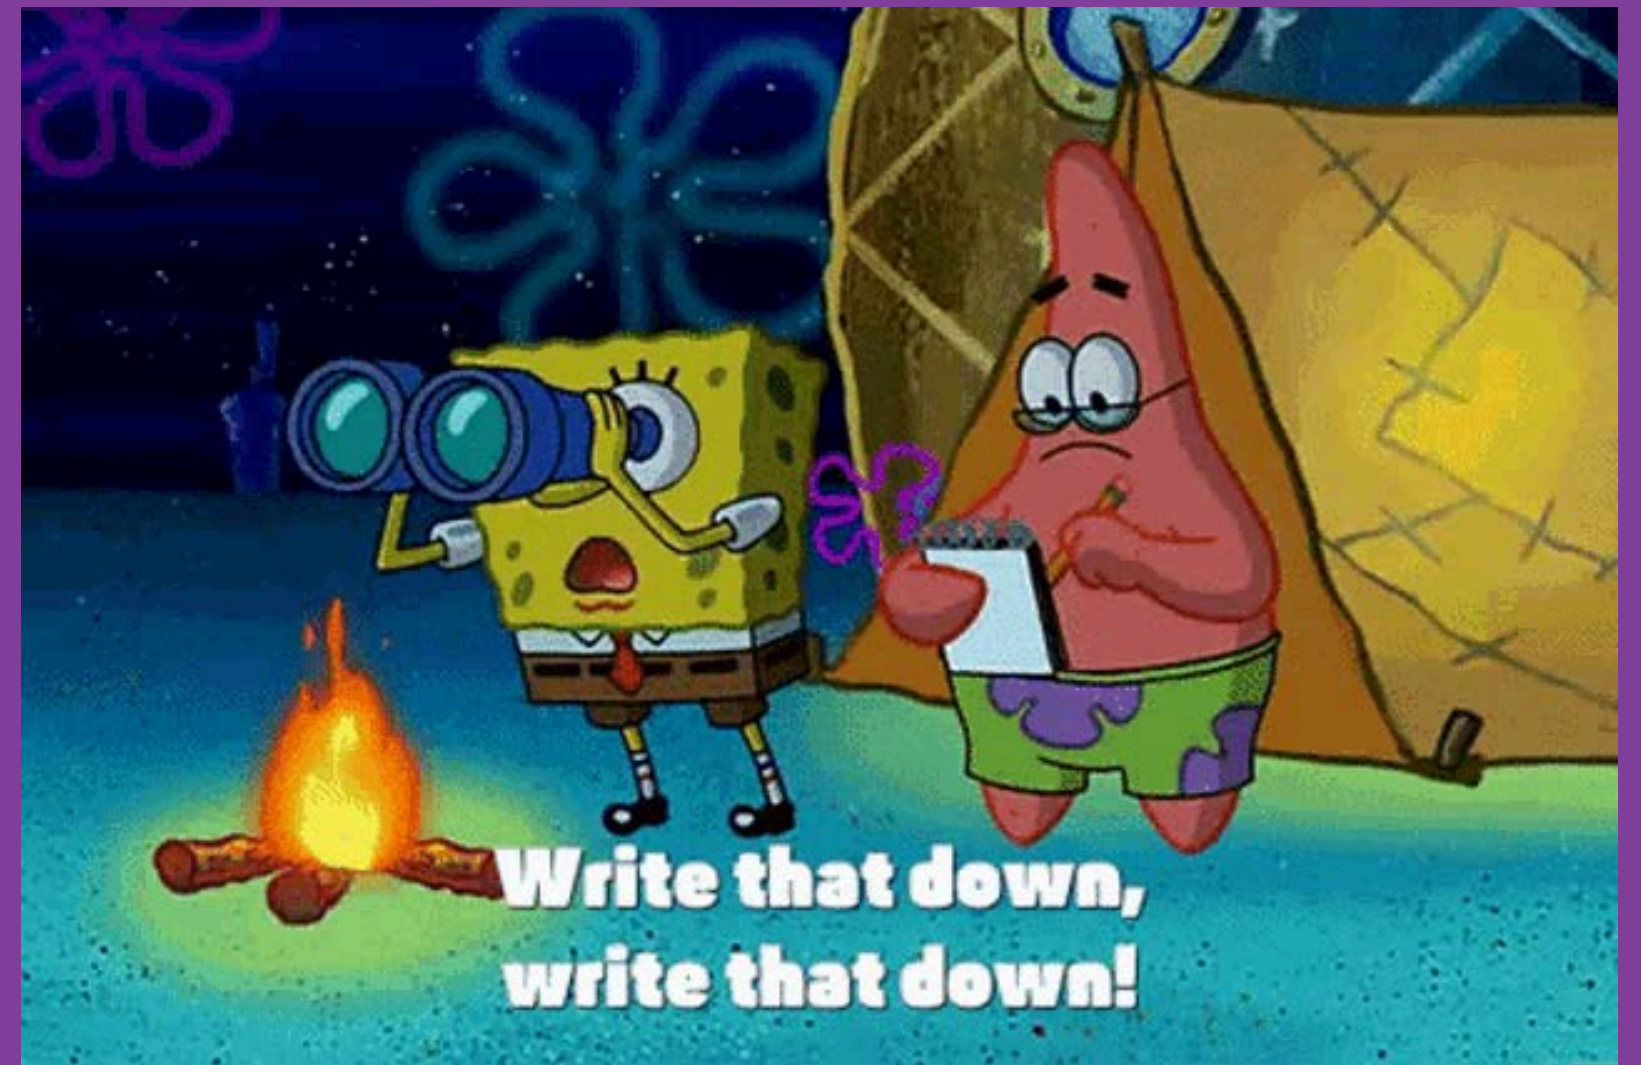

WRITE THAT DOWN!

Think of one thing you've been putting off.

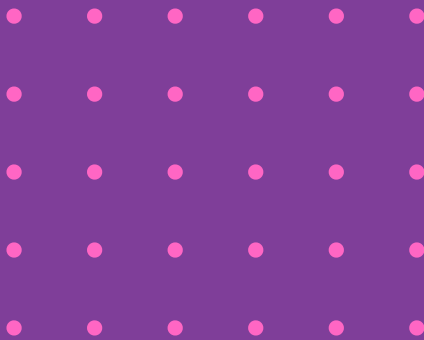

Maybe it's sending the email, raising your prices, launching the new service, or finally making that phone call.

If you're comfortable, share it with the group.

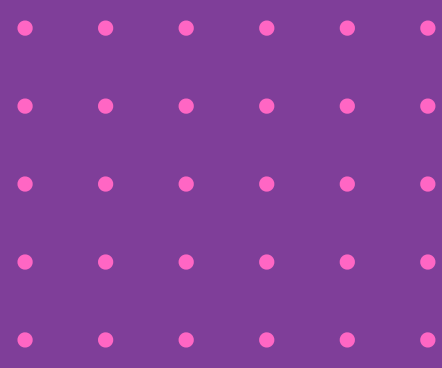

LET'S TALK ABOUT IT.

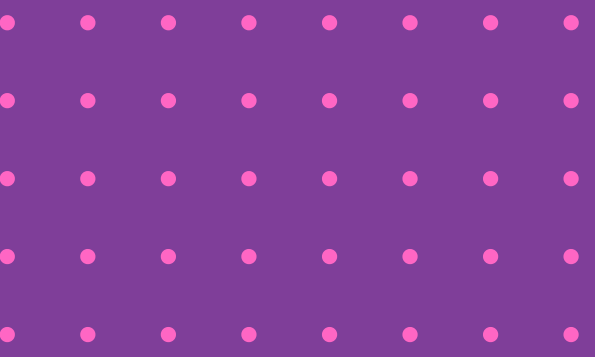

- Have you ever avoided something you knew would help your business?
 - What changes if you actually succeed?
 - What's one opportunity you've been putting off?
 - How do you push through that fear?
